Juggling interior projects and a new boutique means designer Lisa McDennon always has an eye on what's hot.

Interior designer Lisa McDennon's new beachy-modern home and lifestyle boutique, Nuance, has only been open since mid-October (she operated as a pop-up shop in a small local art gallery before), but it's already the go-to place in Laguna Beach for lustworthy hostess gifts and decor—from beautiful cheese knives ($68 for a set of three) to decadent, eye-catching pillows fashioned using everything from faux python to Belgian linen ($100 to $500). The boutique also serves as a lab for McDennon, who has 20-plus years of design experience, to experiment with custom pieces like beds, sofas, ottomans, nightstands, chairs and steel-and-wood light fixtures (all ranging from about $400 to $6,000). Here, we asked McDennon about her latest finds. 1200 S. Coast Highway, Suite 103A, Laguna Beach, 949.494.8833, lisamcdennon.com

"I love Chanel's plum Le Vernis nail color; it's rich but not too dark and feels like winter."

"I've not seen sexier legs than this. This Athens lounge chair is an elegant, refined and modern interpretation of the iconic klismos chair."
